Due to the recent mail incidents that occurred in and around the Richmond Metropolitan area, the Department of General Services' State Mail Services will be conducting mail security training for state agencies in and around the metropolitan area. The mail security training will cover the recently published "Commonwealth of Virginia Mail Security Guide" that was designed to provide uniform policies and procedures for handling or responding to suspicious mail. The forum will also offer a brief presentation by the Virginia Capitol Police followed by a short question and answer session. Please don't wait for an incident to occur before you decide to test your mail-security knowledge. Test it now! For more information or to RSVP, contact State Mail Services at 804-236-3592 or by email at StateMail@dgs.virginia.gov.
